

Art Challenge!

CONGRATULATIONS to the three winners of our latest challenge!

As ever, judging the challenge was very difficult due to the high quality of entries that were submitted. With this in mind, three winners will now be selected for each competition.

On Friday we had a special celebration assembly to enjoy and share all of the children's work that was submitted on time, and to set the new art challenge. This will run until half term.

Our new artist to study is Andy Warhol and we will be focussing the challenge on his 1981 piece, Quadrant Mickey Mouse/Myths. In assembly we looked at his 'Pop Art' style and talked about his use of repetitive imagery and bold colours.

The Challenge

The challenge is to create a self-portrait piece in the style of Warhol's Quadrant Mickey Mouse/Myths (See below).

The children were shown the following link in assembly to provide inspiration:

<http://thecraftyclassroom.com/crafts/famous-artist-crafts-for-kids/andy-warhol-art-project-for-kids/>

If you are interested in viewing the outstanding entries for our Rob Plattel challenge, there is a display in the corridor outside Holly class.

We look forward to seeing your Warhol self-portraits!

